Exemplifying Excellence in the Plante Easy

68th South Atlantic Regional Conference

A Virtual Victory

Over a period of four days, April 15-18, 2021, Sorors in the Significant South Atlantic Region gathered to address the business of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc., participate in forums and workshops, enjoy social gatherings and shop the vendors. Soror Carolyn G. Randolph, Regional Director, Soror Felecia Leggett, Conference Chairman and their executive team organized a successful conference through many challenges. The setting had been planned for the Rosen Shingle Creek in Orlando, Florida with Cluster III as hostesses. However, due to the pandemic, an in-person conference was not an option. "Ain't no stopping us now!" Through the magic of technology, members of CDO and other chapters in the cluster, planned and executed an outstanding virtual experience for over 4,000 attendees from the states of Florida, Georgia and South Carolina. Chi Delta Omega Chapter provided leadership to three prominent programs: The Ivies Beyond the Wall Ceremony, The Diamond-Pearl-Gold-Silver Recognition and The Prayer Breakfast. An overview of each program follows to outline the chapters extensive involvement. This was a regional conference to

Basileus Hazel Lockett

Notes to Sorors

reetings again, my dear sorors of Chi Delta Omega,

For this issue of The Ivy Vine, I would like to talk to you about vision. In so doing, I will share some of what I have observed and concluded about visions during 2020 and 2021.

You are probably familiar with Proverbs 29:18. "Without a vision, the people perish." Often only a small portion of the meaning and wisdom packed into these few words is applied or even considered. One case in point: most recently, the people of the United States had a vision of producing a vaccine against the coronavirus. "When we produce a vaccine, this pandemic will be behind us and we can get back to normalcy." But, when Operation Warp Speed produced several vaccines, we still languished in the land of mask wearers and stay-athome citizens. By the end of December 2020, the vision was realized but to little effect.

We were missing some very necessary actions necessary for the normalcy to be realized. Chief among them was the creation of a plan, a means of getting the vaccine to the people. On top of that, the plan needed milestones so that we could gauge the success of the mission. That plan and the milestones then had to be shared with the citizens of the United States so that the energies of the people could be solicited as well. To achieve greater success, the shared plan needed to be targeted and accomplishments along the way had to be noted. When successes along the way are achieved, know that some will erect stumbling blocks. Make plans to fight against them. When the concrete goal was announced, shared, and implemented, the plan became easier and surer to accomplish the desired result. We learn many things from this example:

- Call the vision by its proper name. Keep the real goal in mind.
- Make sure there is a plan to achieve the goal.
- Share the vision to increase buy in among key persons.
- Establish milestones to gauge the success of the vision.
- Make plans to thwart all efforts to deny the success of the vision.

Every soror in Chi Delta Omega has a vision of a stronger, more viable chapter. I know this because of the way you are working to achieve all that we do. Some are working more than others; but they are content with that because they are committed to success of achieving the vision. I see your compliance with the shared vision in the unprecedented number of candidates for membership. I see your compliance with the shared vision in your attendance to our chapter and committee meetings. I see your compliance with the shared vision in the finished products of the work you do. Keep up the good work, and we will not perish.

With Grateful Appreciation and Sisterly Love, Soror Hazel Lockett, Basileus

Ivies Beyond the Wall Memorial Tribute

Omega and Gamma Rho Omega Chapters had the awesome honor of assimilating and preparing the listing for our devoted and dedicated Sorors who so ably served Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Incorporated through the years but had become Ivies Beyond the Wall (IBTW) during the past year. The program was introduced by Our South Atlantic Regional Director, Soror Carolyn G. Randolph, who introduced and presented the Ivies Beyond The Wall Memorial Tribute. We were honored to have three of the past South Atlantic Regional Directors participate in reading the names from their designated states. Representing: FLORIDA – Soror Marsha Lewis Brown, 17th South Atlantic Regional Director; GEORGIA – Soror Lucretia Payton Stewart, 13th South Atlantic Regional Director; and SOUTH CAROLINA - Soror Vertelle M. Middleton, 12th South Atlantic Regional Director. Soloists from our region provided designated national and spiritual musical selections for the occasion. The IBTW Committee members from CDO included: Sorors Sue Fray and Cerrito King as Co-Chairmen, Alma Dixon, Joyce Freeman, Kowanna Johnson, Hazel Lockett, D'Arcy Miller, Myra Valentine and Gloria Wilkins.

DIAMOND-PEARL-GOLDEN-SILVER PRESENTATION 68th SOUTH ATLANTIC REGIONAL CONFERENCE

What a lesson! What a learning experience! As a Host Chapter in Cluster Three, the Sorors of Chi Delta Omega volunteered to present the Carolyn House Stewart Diamond Pearl Golden Silver Milestone Celebration. Sorors from Florida, Georgia, and South Carolina were honored for their many years of service in the following categories: Diamond Sorors—75 years; Pearl Sorors—65 years; Golden Sorors—50 years and Silver Sorors—25 years. Our task was to prepare a program to salute and honor these dedicated members. There were 13 CDO Sorors and 5 Sorors from the Gamma Rho Omega Chapter of Jacksonville who served on this committee, which was Co-Chaired by Soror Marva Jones and Soror Emelda Kennerly.

Since this presentation was virtual, the committee thought it would not be as strenuous to prepare as it would have been if it had been in person. However, even though we did not have to secure hospitality rooms, prepare a certificate for each Milestone Soror, or order crowns for each honoree, we were responsible for preparing a program which included a slideshow presentation of over 300 slides—one for each honoree. What a task! Appearing in the virtual program were Soror Andrea Dukes as Program Moderator; Soror Dora Giddens gave the Meditation; Soror Marva Jones greeted the audience; Sorors Robbie Johnson, Joyce Freeman, Cassandra Stephenson, Myra Valentine, and Karen Harrison participated in the Litany.

This was a massive labor of love for the committee members. At times, it seemed overwhelming! We accomplished our task and received kudos from both Soror Carolyn Randolph, SA Regional Director and Soror Felecia Leggett, Cluster III Coordinator, for a job well done.

SARC Prayer Breakfast

"Significant Service: Fueled by Faith, Powered by Prayer"

Rejoice always, pray continually, and give thanks in all circumstances, for this is God's will for you in Jesus Christ 1 Thessalonians 5:16-18

For those Sorors who had an opportunity to view the virtual Prayer Breakfast, we can agree that the Committee, lead by Chi Delta Omega Co-Chairs, Sorors Theresa Waters and Carol Coffie, served as an excellent opening for the 68th South Atlantic Regional Conference. Feedback from several Sorors said, "We were encouraged by the prayer, solos, and other musical selections." CDO sorors participating in the program included Soror Sue Fray, who presented the opening musical prelude. Soror Theresa Waters graciously gave the opening prayer, followed by Soror Carol Coffie who rendered a warm welcome and occasion. Soror Dora Giddens prayed for our government and its leaders and Soror Terricena Flagg gave an inspirational closing prayer. Sorors from various other chapters participated with prayers and or sang solos. It was a spirit-filled program that brought hope and peace.

Congratulations, Soror Kowanna Johnson service as an Alpha Kappa Alpha were part of a small but talented group women who became Chi Delta Omega March 27, 2011, we welcomed you Washington, Pilar King (d), McCloud and Catina Robinson Alpha Sorority, Incorporated. to CDO through your consistent tion at all levels of opportunity to to Leadership and Boule'. TARGET 1: #CAP – Collaboration with The Arts

An Arts Presentation (via Zoom), titled "The Impact of the Arts on Diverse Women" was presented on April 2, 2021 as a collaboration between Chi Delta Omega and Flagler Palm Coast High School. Soror Phyllis Pearson, CDO #CAP Committee Chairman, Soror Anita Jackson, CDO Arts Committee Chairman and FPCHS Teacher, Ms. Kimberly Lee lead the effort.

Soror Phyllis welcomed the FPCHS African American History class, comprised of twenty-five, Grades 9 -12 students. Soror Anita gave a brief Arts presentation and facilitated a discussion by two guests: #CAP Student Participants -- Samira Taite-Headspeth (Junior) and Oslyn Bryant (Senior). Samira and Oslyn shared their personal experiences of how art has impacted every aspect of their lives, and how this discipline will play a critical role in their futures. Below are a few quotes from the students' post-presentation evaluations:

"I think this presentation really inspired me to know that I still have time and that there are things that can wait for beyond high school. It also showed how important the arts are to people and how they affect everyone differently."

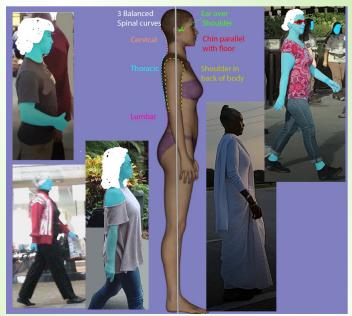

"This presentation given about the arts really inspired me. Especially when Samira said in the presentation how you should never be close minded, because it won't allow you to grow individually and will never let me land towards the place I am at now in these current times, which makes it very important that we first work and figure ourselves out."

"The Impact of the Arts on Diverse Women presentation was inspiring because of how well the women were able to articulate their points and how productive they are while still being in high school. Art heavily influences my life in everything I do whether it's through my clothing, the murals I paint on my wall, the projects I've made, or even in school with every assignment."

TARGET 2: TO YOUR HEALTH! How to Use Your Steps to Correct Your Posture.

In 1947, the Posture Committee of the American Academy of Orthopedic Surgeons defined good or erect posture as that body alignment where gravity passes through the body in line with the structures designed to support and balance the body under the stress of gravity. The stated benefits of erect posture are to protect the weight-bearing structures from the injury and progressive deformity that comes with the body aging in poor posture.

Dear Sorors of CDO, this is the follow-up of the March 2021 issue of the Ivy Vine. I included a reference from Mayo Clinic, which enumerated the benefits of walking in erect posture. For years I have made a study of correcting the body's malalignment as logically as orthodontists correct poorly aligned teeth. I enjoy my daily "Walk with the Supreme" and use it to correct my posture. I present to you how to improve your body posture while walking by using a few instructional pictures.

The first picture includes a manikin standing in erect alignment, produced by placing its skeleton with the Line of Gravity (LOG) passing through the structures designed to interface with gravity in the description of ideal posture. The manikin with some surface structures that are markers of ideal posture is a part of a collage of pictures that includes a sample of people in good posture.

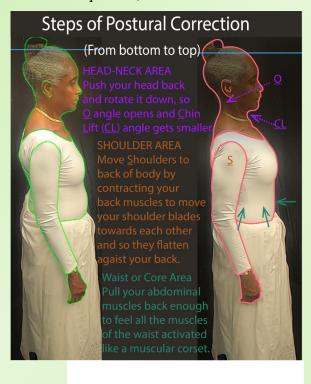

Take a video of your side view of you walking and use the pictures and mirrors to evaluate your posture. The first feature of ideal posture I look for is three balanced spinal curves. Poor posture will show up as an exaggeration or flattening of spinal curves, wrong shoulder position, and the head being is too far forward as shown by ears not being over shoulders.

upright, balancing the forward rotation produced by the contraction of Steps for postural correction: 2nd picture.

You can make walking in erect posture a meditation by:

- 1). Feel your body as a column from the pelvis to the top of your head. When walking, keep your column abdominal muscles and the backward rotation coming from the lower neck and upper back muscles.
- 3). Make a meditation of relaxing the muscular contractions to determine how softly you can hold the muscles contracted and still hold erect posture.

Have fun with your walk. When you walk with speed it is for cardio conditioning, walking for a long time is for endurance and when you walk in erect posture, it is to correct and maintains good posture.

Economic Legacy

As we ended National Financial Literacy Month (April), it is with hope that we are more knowledgeable and financially savvy than before because of various educational opportunities offered. The April celebration was started more than 20 years ago, unbeknown to many, and should be a testament to lessons learned during the pandemic. Consumers who improve their money knowledge have been documented to have a better financial outcome. Financial education is an ongoing process that must be put into practice or the intended outcome is loss. During the "Financial Literacy for a New Normal" workshop, there were focal points presented toward building individual wealth and stability. These included: Wealth Accumulation; Wealth Distribution; Financial Planning; and Long-Term Effects as a result of Risk Management. Our presenter suggested starting a business, investing for Soror Thea Hines Jones could not provide in-person assistance to feed the homeless at Palm Coast United Methodist Church so she cooked and delivered the food to the center director for distribution.

Bravo Soror for your initiative and hard work!

"An Evening at the Savoy!"

The Arts Committee hosted "An Evening at the Savoy!". The virtual experience, hosted on March 20th via Zoom, was designed to salute the Harlem Renaissance, a signature National Initiative of Alpha Kappa Alpha and to thank our supporters for their generosity and commitment to Chi Delta Omega programs through the years.

Lead event coordinators, Sorors Gerri Dillon, Marva Jones and Emelda Kennerly planned an evening of music, dance, art, poetry, education, and just plain fun! The event featured several video segments, including musical and poetry renditions by CDO members (Marva Jones as Billie Holiday, Adrienne Felton as Josephine Baker) and several Honey-Do's; a Harlem Renaissance slide presentation (created by Olivia Bereal) detailed period history and artists; and a "live" conversation with participants facilitated by Arts Committee Chair, Anita Jackson. The evening's Savoy "table hosts", Gerri Dillon and Emelda Kennerly "guided our guests through the Savoy". Sorors Andrea Dukes and Mary Jennings managed technology prior to and during the event. Soror Sue Fray assisted with CDO communications. CDO President, Soror Hazel Lockett welcomed guests at the beginning, and "ushered all back on the "A Train" at evening's end. According to our online survey responses, the event was a huge success!

CONGRATULATIONS! BRAVO!

SUPURB! OUTSTANDING! Awesome!

Thank you Sorors of Target 4 for your commitment to serving SIGNIFICANTLY!

Soror Coffie Women's Day Speaker

The members of Mt. Calvary Baptist Church of Palm Coast, women in particular, were inspired by a dynamic Women's Day speaker in the person of Soror Carol Love Coffie. Soror Coffie, the Chi Delta Omega Chapter Soror of the Year, exemplified just one of her many attributes as a public speaker and First Lady to the Mt. Calvary congregation. Her speech on "JOY Worship" had everyone, "to look at it this way" through scriptures and present day illustrations. The Women's Day worship service was held virtually on March 21st and concluded several evening activities, one of which was a special theme night activity on "How Stella Got Her JOY Back." Soror Carol serves CDO as Membership Committee Chairman and on the Sisterly Relationships Committee as a true spiritual leader.

SMART AKADEMY CELEBRATES END OF SCHOOL YEAR

The young ladies of The Flagler County Boys and Girls Club celebrated the end of the school year with their SMART AKAdemy mentors via Zoom on Thursday, May 6th. The girls, as always, began with attendance and the "SMART Girls Pledge". Greetings, remarks of encouragement and appreciation were given by Basileus, Soror Hazel Lockett. The session continued with the presentation of certificates and awards by Soror Gerri Dillon. Each girl who participated throughout the year was given a certificate of participation. Special attendance "Oscars" were presented to those girls who unwaveringly attended the majority of the AKAdemy sessions for the 2020-2021 school year between October 2020 and May 2021. The event continued with a Mother's Day acknowledgement craft activity coordinated by Soror Olivia Bereal. Each young lady was given the opportunity to say what they learned and liked about this year's SMART AKAdemy sessions. Positive feedback on the activities, with emphasis especially on the treats, were received. Kudos to Soror Olivia Bereal for planning the session, certificate design, and packaging materials for this end of year event. Special thanks also to the

SMART AKAdemy hardworking mentoring team - Sorors Olivia Bereal, Gwen Dunn Carroll, Gerri Dillon, Myra Valentine, and Cassandra Stephenson, who come together monthly to plan and work with the "SMART Girls" of the Boys and Girls Club of Flagler County on a virtual platform.

It's Scholarship Awards Season!

IVY COMMUNITY FOUNDATION, INC.

The Ivy Community Foundation (ICF) Scholarship Committee named six high school seniors from Flagler and Putnam Counties' Class of 2021 recipients of $1,000 scholarships each for this year. Of the seniors named, one is from Crescent City High School, one is from Flagler Palm Coast High School, two are from Matanzas High School, and two are from Palatka High School.

About 100 students applied for the scholarship this year. The Committee selects recipients based on criteria including strength of character, leadership potential, academic performance, test scores, recommendation, economic need and community service. Congratulations to Flagler ICF Scholar recipients, Vandyn Pinckney and Brianna Whitfield of Matanzas High School. The Golden/Pearl recipient is Shaunte White of Flagler Palm Coast High School.

On April 27th The Flagler County Education Foundation congratulated Flagler County graduates and their families with a Senior "Drive and Surprise" caravan along with teachers, school administrators and scholarship donor organizations. Yard signs and award packets were presented to each recipient at his/her home. A professional documenter was on hand to video and take photos. Under the coordination of Shelley Wheeler, this year's scholarship selection and award process went well despite the constraints of COVID-19 once again preventing celebration at Flagler Auditorium. Social distancing and events mandates by sister organization, Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc., led ICF to opt out of officially participating in the caravan this year. Special thanks are extended to Mrs. Thea Hines-Jones of the ICF for volunteering as a private citizen to participate in the caravan to the homes of the ICF Scholarship recipients. Putnam County scholarship awards will be announced and presented in June. Details of the 2021 ICF virtual awards program will be reported in the fall edition of the Ivy Vine featuring all of this year's recipients.

These seniors join a long line of recipients who have been named to the Ivy Community Foundation, Inc., Scholarship Program. The 2021 Class is impressive, resilient and filled with outstanding young scholars who have promising futures. We're delighted to have them join the family of ICF Scholars and look forward to being a part of their journey through college.

The Ivy Community Foundation, Inc. scholarship program has awarded more than $100,000 in scholarships since 2003 as ICF Scholars have attended colleges and universities including HBCUs and Ivy League institutions. The Ivy Community Foundation, Inc. is grateful to its members, supporters, and the passionate commitment with which its scholarship committee carries out its charge each season to identify and award outstanding students for their efforts and accomplishments.

Florida's AKA Day at the Capitol

n March 17th and 18th, 473 South Atlantic Region Sorors showed up for the Inaugural 2021 Virtual Florida AKA Day at the Capitol. The AKA/DAC activities took place at the Moon in see, Florida. The seminars were hosted via the official Zoom online seminar platform. Soror Laurise Thomas served as the Florida AKA/ DAC Chairman, Her Co-Chairmen were Sorors Andrea Knowles and Tammy Hamlet. During the two-day historic event, the AKA/DAC committee members created a panel of undergraduate members from the Divine Nine and members of the Florida Legislative Black Caucus. The conversation focused on the 2020 social justice events and provided an opportunity to bridge the generational gap and strategize how young leaders can engage in the political process. During the second day, plenary speakers and workshops covered topics such as, the Florida 2020 Election Re-cap, Legislative Advocacy, Understanding Redistricting, and a roundtable session featuring state legislators. The AKA's L. E. A. D. award ceremony highlighted Sorors who were serving significantly in their communities. The keynote speaker was, Vincent Evans, who is the Deputy Director of the Office of Public Engagement and Intergovernmental Affairs in the Office of Vice President Kamala Harris. Key points of AKA/DAC promoted engaging and educational programs to galvanize chapters, members, and community leaders to feel empowered and equipped to take the L.E.A.D. on issues that impact our daily lives. This event presented the opportunity for our voices to be heard as we connected with state legislators addressing inequalities in our communities, enjoyed powerful speakers and were motivated to effectively advocate for change by taking the initiative, "Strategies for Change" into our communities.
